PSHS Drill Team Sweeps Regional Competition

Meredith Walraven and Jennifer Reiken, the director and assistant director for the Plano Senior High School Planoettes, have recently taken this year's drill team to their first ever regional competition held on March 8 in Sachse. The girls swept the floor at Sachse High School, walking away with an outstanding 22 awards. The team was entered in 12 categories, including team jazz and military, officer lyrical, and an outstanding collection of solos and ensembles.

This is the first year the team is under the direction of Meredith Walraven and Assistant Director Jennifer Reiken. The Planoettes are made up of 75 talented juniors and seniors who pride themselves on excelling at exceptionally challenging dances. The Planoettes perform during the Plano Wildcats football season, basketball season, their own annual spring show and now they have added competition to the list.

The girls were judged on their performance ability, showmanship, choreography, precision skills, sharpness as well as the degree of difficulty of their dance moves.
