Description

Staff will provide boys and girls with an in-depth look into the art and skill of shooting and shot-making craft. We will teach shooting techniques, shot mechanics, skill, and the mental approach needed for success. Each player's shot will be broken down for a systematic evaluation. Each stage of the shot process design will be critiqued, communicated, taught, and then reinforced with positive feedback and energetic repetition. Based on each individual's own personal shot/shot making capabilities, an in-depth analysis will be given to each student. Clinic is designed for the player who is willing to work hard. Participants will be grouped according to age and ability. If you wish to attend both the morning and afternoon sessions, please sign up and pay for each session separately. Bring a lunch. Staff will be present between sessions.
