Plano, TX – August 23, 2017. At last night's meeting of the Plano ISD Board of Trustees, two new members of the Superintendent's Cabinet were announced. Dr. Beth Brockman was named as Plano ISD's assistant superintendent for employee services, replacing Dr. Matthew Gutierrez who served in the role before being tapped to become Seguin ISD's new superintendent of schools. Dr. Katrina Horn-Hasley was named assistant superintendent of academic services replacing retiring Assistant Superintendent Dr. James Wussow.

About Dr. Beth Brockman, Assistant Superintendent for Employee Services

Dr. Brockman is an experienced district and campus administrator with expertise in all facets of instructional leadership. In Lewisville ISD, she led the human resources, communications, professional learning, strategic initiatives and community and campus services departments.

Dr. Brockman has significant experience with facilitating and leading collaborative groups and has been recognized for campus, district and state levels of leadership. Her strengths include building effectiveness within teachers and administrators, leadership development, leading administrative teams and designing systems for improved employee recruitment and retention. As Plano ISD's assistant superintendent for employee services, Dr. Brockman will oversee professional learning and human resources, which includes employee recruitment and retention, compensation, employee records, benefits, risk management and health services.

"It is great to come back home," said Dr. Brockman, a Plano Senior High School graduate. "My passion is working with people, especially those who have dedicated their work to school children. I have a strong professional history and connection to the areas of human resources and professional learning, and I am excited to continue this familiar work in my home school district of Plano ISD."

During her time in Lewisville ISD serving in the roles of assistant superintendent of community engagement, associate superintendent of staff and community relations and executive director of professional learning, Dr. Brockman aligned professional learning offerings with district, department and campus goals, as well as identified needs such as establishing a strong leadership development focus for district leaders. Dr. Brockman also has experience as a principal at Huffines Middle School, assistant principal at Briarhill Middle School and Flower Mound High School, as well as in the classroom as a secondary math teacher.

Dr. Brockman received her doctorate and master's degrees from the University of North Texas and her bachelor's degree from Baylor University.
