Comprehensive Needs Assessment

Needs Assessment Overview

Needs Assessment Overview Summary

The IB World School at Huffman Elementary is a campus built in 1984. It is situated in a large neighborhood full of single-family homes and is adjacent to a large, well-maintained park and Shepton High School. Huffman has undergone tremendous change in demographics, especially related to those families coming who qualify as Economically Disadvantaged. In 2007, redistricting resulted in a jump from 21% economically disadvantaged students to 33% economically disadvantaged students in 2008. As of 2022, Huffman is at 53% of their students coming from an economically disadvantaged background.

Plano ISD has been proactive in supporting the school and their ability to meet the needs of a diverse community through funding and campus-based decision making which has resulted in the campus beginning the process of becoming an International Baccalaureate school in 2017. Huffman became fully recognized as an IB Primary Years Programme in 2019. As an IB PYP campus, students are educated with an inquiry and transdisciplinary approach which values the education of the whole child.

Teachers are facilitators for students learning. Teachers have agency to guide students to find answers through exploration which is unique to Huffman and the IB program. The campus takes the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) and aligns them so that each concept flows throughout all disciplines. Grade Levels work together to create a unique curriculum that is exciting and engaging for our students. The students have a universal language and a consistent unit of inquiry in each classroom. There is a focus on social emotional learning to ensure basic needs are met so the student can value academic learning. Students not only learn about other cultures, but learn Chinese Mandarin for all grades PK-5. The IB PYP approach helps students develop a deeper understanding of the world around them.

With Huffman's unique program, anyone in Plano ISD or surrounding districts can apply to attend the campus and are then selected through random lottery. In addition to transfers, Huffman is zoned with some apartment complexes that sometimes result in increased student mobility. This can create challenges for students acclimating to the IB PYP approach. Students who transfer must also adhere to district standards for discipline, behavior and academics, which requires close monitoring, clear communication, and consistent implementation of standards by Huffman staff. Recognizing student needs and providing timely intervention for a transient culture is critical.

The COVID pandemic has placed a strain on both students and staff as they worked to provide an excellent educational experience for students who attended virtually and in-person in a socially distanced way. It has created challenges for onboarding new staff. Due to the amount of training and funding spent to create highly qualified IB PYP teachers, long-term retention is critical to meet the needs of Huffman students.

Huffman utilizes two teacher leadership teams. The Foundations Team addresses the needs of culture to ensure that students, their families, and teachers have a supportive productive place to learn and work. The Design Team continually looks to improve best instructional practices based on the needs of the campus that are directly tied to informal and formal data. Huffman also has a strong site-based decision committee that encompasses both teams, parents, district, and community members.

Partnership between home and school is a priority at Huffman. Huffman has a strong parent presence through volunteerism, teacher appreciation, and family programs. One of the greatest advantages of Huffman Elementary is that the school is made up of a more accurate mirror of the diverse populations and people that families can be confident that their child will be prepared for success based on the learning approach and culture of Huffman.
